NIH Manual Chapter Review Record

Use prescribed by NIH Manual 1710.

Many manual chapters need to be reviewed by organizations outside the issuing office. Use this form to record such review.

NIH Manual	Chanter	Number	and	Titla
INITI Manual	Chapter	nullibel	anu	HILLE

Section A. Issuing Office
Instructions for Issuing Office:	Person to Contact in Issuing Office
1. Determine the organizations that need to review the manual chapter. See Section C, on page 2, for suggested organizations.
Prepare one form for each reviewing office by completing the identifying information on the right half of the form in Section A.	Organization Date Mater		rial Sent
For the convenience of the reviewing offices, mark each page that needs to be reviewed or list page numbers in "Specific Instructions for Reviewer" below.	Building and Room	Phone No.
 Keep this form and all comments provided by the reviewer until this version of the chapter is revised. 	Name of Reviewing Office	,	Building and Room

Specific Instructions for Reviewer (e.g., page numbers, type of review needed)

Section B. Reviewing Office
Instructions for Reviewing Office: 1. Please review the attached manual chapter. See "Specific Instructions for Reviewer" above, and complete all items in Section B.	Reviewer's Name	Phone No.
Return this form, your comments, and the manual chapter to the contact shown in Section A.	Date Reviewer Received Package	Date Reviewer Cleared Package
3. We ask for a maximum 5-day turn-around time for your review. Please call the contact shown in Section A if this is not feasible.

Reviewer's Comments (Use additional sheet(s) if necessary.)

Section C. Suggested Reviewing Offices

Use the guide on page 2 to help determine who should review manual chapters. (Call OMA, 301-496-2832, for further advice.)

- Any office mentioned in the text of the chapter.
- Any office that is responsible for a number series in the NIH Manual, but is not the issuing office for a particular chapter. For example, if the Office of Management Assessment (OMA) issues
- a chapter which is part of the 2300 personnel series, OMA should send the chapter for review to the Office of Human Resources (OHR). At a minimum, OHR needs to be aware that the chapter is going to be issued in the 2300 series.
- The following organizations when the chapter relates to their subject areas (see page 2):

Required and Suggested Reviewing Offices

Organization Name	Subject Areas
Office of the General Counsel (OGC)	Required for all NIH Manual Chapters; OMA obtains this review.
Ofc. Director Ofc. Extramural Research	. Extramural research policy concerning grants, cooperative agreements, contracts, peer review, advisory committee functions and operations, program management, animal welfare, protection of human subjects, training, and fellowships.
	Animal care and use, technology transfer, human subjects research NIH Equal Employment Opportunity Program, Discrimination Complaints Program, and Special Emphasis Programs.
Ofc. Legislative Policy & Analysis	Advisory committee organizations/memberships Legislative matters Public information; audiovisual, editorial operations; Visitor Information Center;
	DeWitt Stetten, Jr., Museum/Historical Office; Freedom of Information Act.
Office of Management: Ofc. Human Resources	Staffing, recruitment, benefits, compensation, classification, training, personnel information. . Budget, financial reports, accounting, disbursing.
Ofc. Budget Ofc. Management Assessment	Budget policy, planning, analysis Delegations of authority, organization references, directives, regulations, forms references, records, Privacy Act, internal controls (formerly management controls), A-76/FAIR Act.
	All acquisition policy (including contracts, simplified acquisitions, DELPRO and purchase cards), financial advisory services, small business.
	Supply, transportation, property (including property held on grants and contracts), and acquisition procedures involving simplified acquisitions, DELPRO and purchase cards.
Office of Research Services: Ofc. Administrative Management Scientific Resources Service Cluster	Travel and change of duty station Radiation safety; occupational safety and health; environmental protection; waste management; emergency and fire protection services; employee health services; and media and glassware services.
Security and Emergency Response Service Cluster Program and Employee Service Cluster
Ofc. Research Facilities Development & ODiv. Facilities Planning	Operations: Master and facilities planning, including feasibility, site and land use analysis, preprogramming studies, and space planning documentation and reporting.
Div. Property Management	Responsible for the safe and effective operation of leased and owned NIH real property through the following comprehensive programs: facility management program; predictive, preventive and emergency maintenance program, construction management program to support alterations, renovations, repairs and improvements;
Office of Acquisitions	and a program to provide all utility services to NIH-owned facilities. Procurement services to lease commercial space, construct federal facilities, and purchase real property.
Div. Technical Resources	Architectural and engineering policy and design guidelines, performance assessment and management control systems.
Div. Environmental Protection	Compliance for regulated environmental activities and all related review and authorization processes; non-radioactive waste management, recycling and disposal; and development of environmental guidelines.
Center for Information Technology	All IRM functions including acquisition of Information Technology (IT) resources; systems security; IRM strategic management, planning, and budget activities.
Center for Scientific Review	Extramural research policy on grants, cooperative agreements, peer review, initial review groups, animal welfare, protection of human subjects, and fellowships.